The following questions were submitted and answered (4).

Question

1. What data can the City of Cambridge provide to the selected consultant? Is there data on existing multimodal transportation volumes, curbside regulations, land use, and/or truck activity for any areas that might be appropriate for case studies?

Answer

Some data is available on the City's Open Data Web Portal and other online City resources. Land use data is available from the Community Development Department.
